

CAN ANYONE LEAD FROM ANYWHERE?
...AND OTHER BIG QUESTIONS ABOUT LEADERSHIP
LEADERSHIP WORKING GROUP SPEAKER SERIES

Why Do Leaders Act Unethically?

Tuesday, November 27

Garrett Great Hall, 12:30—2:00pm

Co-sponsored by Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy and Darden Initiative for Business in Society

Lunch provided, open to the public

Panel discussion featuring:

- Max H. Bazerman, Jesse Isidor Straus Professor of Business Administration, Harvard Business School
- R. Edward Freeman, University Professor; Elis and Signe Olsson Professor of Business Administration, Darden School of Business
- Benjamin Converse, Assistant Professor of Public Policy and Psychology, Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy, moderator

The Leadership Working Group is a pan-University, interdisciplinary group that seeks to identify best practices in leadership education and spark cross-Grounds conversations about effective, enlightened, and ethical leadership through panels and special events.